Hebron Baptist Church

Dedication Service, Sunday morning at 11 a.m. September 1, 1963.

The Hebron Church will dedicate the New Education Facilities, and other improvements made to the Church Auditorium and Sunday School Rooms on that floor. Also the lovely Electric Organ given to the church by the family of the late Mrs. Jessie S. Stratton at the Worship Service 11 a.m. on Sunday, September 1, 1963.

We invite our friends and neighbors to share with us in the dedication service.

We will not have an afternoon service.

Rev. John P. Leitner, Pastor.

Seventh-day Adventist Church

A few of the highlights of Pastor Carpenter's inspiring message last Sabbath, Aug. 24, entitled "Victory in Christ." Scripture text, "For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." I John 5:4. How do we gain victory in Christ? He mentioned the ABC method found in these texts "Ask, and it shall be given unto you, seek and ye shall find, knock, and it shall be opened unto you." Matt 7:7. Therefore I say unto you whatsoever things ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them and ye shall have them." Mark 11:24. "But thanks be unto God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." I Cor. 15:57. We must ask, believe and claim the victory.

The Pastor said "we cannot gain the victory through works nor through our own strength, for all Bible doctrines clusters around these words. Atonement (atonement) which means at-one-ment with God. All must measure up to the standard set for us." Hear what Peter has to say about this in I Peter 1:15,16, "But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation. Because it is written be ye holy for I am holy." "And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself even as he is pure." I John 3:3 James 1:4 "But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."

Romans 8:2, 4. "For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sent his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us who walk not by the flesh, but after the spirit."

Pastor Carpenter explained to the overcomers and live victorious lives through Christ we must observe these four main points. No. 1 — We must renounce every known sin. No. 2 — We must open our hearts door and let Jesus come in. No. 3 — We must yield our hearts to Him every open our hearts' door and let moment. No. 4 — Claim the victory by faith in Him who has promised.

Each year the bald eagle builds a new nest on top of the former one. The result is that some get right sizable. One near St. Petersburg, Fla., has been building for 40 years. It is now 20 feet high and 9½ feet across. It is estimated to weigh several tons. —Sports Afield

GILBERT "BUCK" JAMES

Property losses from farm fires have increased steadily since 1940. In 1961 the total was $163 million, an increase of 155 per cent in 22 years.

State President Attends 4-H Meet In Washington

Local 4-H member and state 4-H Club president Gilbert 'Buck' James attended the Citizenship Short Course at the National 4-H Center, Chevy Chase, Maryland from August 11 to 17. Buck was elected to be the representing delegate among eight outstanding members from the state of Virginia.

In addition to lectures, discussions, and debates, the group toured the Washington, Lincoln Memorial, Monument, and Smithsonian Institution. They saw the Unknown Soldier, Mount Vernon Estate and the White House.

Buck said that the highlight moment of each day was to carry out an assigned project to produce the group's float in Australia to the annual Australia Day parade.

This was the first time Virginia 4-H members and likewise, the first Appomattox county delegate qualified 4-H club member to represent the state.

me not to be permitted to read the Sunday comics until Monday but was it too bad that the Victrola on the Sabbath was only to be used for hymns. I learned to play the family organ — in a sort of way. Little to worry about. Any rabbits trapped in my rabbit boxes would still be there Monday and on Sunday I did not have to visit the turnip kiln or scramble down the ladder into the ice house or shell butterbeans. Mother had the chicken already fried, the homemade hominy and sausage ready, endless jars of jams and jellies. I had the wood all stacked on the side porch for the kitchen, the dining room, the parlor, Dad's study, and the three bedrooms. I did have to feed my pony, Trixie, and the pig. We never had more than one pig. I detested feeding the chickens . . . they would swarm under your feet and create such a stir when they saw you coming with the corn pail. Were I transformed into a lower animal (if there is any such) I would prefer a duck. He just waddles on his own sweet way, and let's the rest of the world go by. Enough for now.

Vacation time is nearly over but not too late to slip in an item I read in The Holiday Inn Magazine for July. A wife asked her husband: "Where would you like to spend our vacation, honey?" He said: "You can spend anywhere; let's figure someplace we can enjoy our vacation."

And there was the man who said he was a real go-getter. He said, "My wife works —all I do is get her."

Honey Scarce

he said, 12,000 pounds went to South Carolina.

"Some Bees are Mean"

Maxwell's upper arms show the effects of bee keeping. He says that the bees can't get to his hands and forearms because of heavy leather gloves, but his upper arms are scarred from repeated encounters with "mean bees." Some bees, he said, are meaner than others.

He recalled that one time early in his career he had a hive of "black bees". He clipped the queen's wings to keep them from swarming. Several times, he said the hive would swarm, anyway, with the queen crawling and hopping on the ground. Finally he hit on the idea of tyeing down the queen, and fastened her securely in the hive. But the bees were unhappy about their home and their queen at that point, and stung her to death. So he ordered a queen bee, by mail, and the hive settled down with a new ruler.

First failure — 9 years

This is Maxwell's first honey crop failure in nine years. He said he hopes that next season will bring more rain. He noted that his 30 herd of cattle will also require supplementary feeding, at least two carloads of hay, and that his five acres of tobacco had also felt the effects of an extremely dry season. In comparison to farm animals and crops, he feels that "feeding the bees" is one of the least expensive measures a farmr would have to take during a severe drought. It looks as if the bees will have good care and that with good spring rains in '64, there will be plenty of "sourwood honey for Appomattox and the many people throughout the country who love the taste of one of the county's more famous products.

Staurt Mayhugh In Training Great Lakes, Ill.

GREAT LAKES, ILL. (FHTNC) — Stuart L. Mayhugh, 20, son of Mrs. Frances F. Webb, of Appomattox, Va., is undergoing two weeks of active duty training for naval reservists at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the training, the reservists undergo instruction on seamanship, damage control, firefighting, first aid, swimming and survival, shipboard drills, and discipline.

Upon completing the training, reservists return to their home town Naval Reserve units, where they will be ready for recall in the event of a national emergency. Training is conducted locally all year long in these units to prepare the reservists for advancement.
